1. What does the news report say about Vyclav Berser and Joanna Stevens?
   A. They are young teenagers from Atlanta.
   B. They won this year’s 7 Mile Bridge Run.
   C. They completed the race in less than 40 minutes.
   D. They are both students at Marathon High School.
2. What do we learn about the April contest?
   A. It drew competitors from more than 40 countries.
   B. It is watched live online by fans all over the world.
   C. It closed the city of Big Pine Key to traffic for three hours.
   D. It is one of the most popular running events in the southeastern U.S.
3. What do we learn from the news report about Tim Peak?
   A. He was once a full-time ambassador.
   B. He was soon to retire from the army.
   C. He became an astronaut in 2015.
   D. He used to be a helicopter pilot.
4. What does Tim Peek say about his work with the European Space Agency?
   A. It has been unbelievably exciting and rewarding.
   B. It has been extraordinarily tough and demanding.
   C. It has contributed a great deal to human flights to space.
   D. It has given him exceptional privilege as an ambassador.
5. What does the report say about the five cats?
   A. They are known for their loyalty to their owners.
   B. They are brought in by the store’s customers.
   C. They are regular visitors to the store.
   D. They are pets kept by the store staff.
6. What did some customers think when they saw the first cat routinely appear in the store?
   A. It might be a nuisance to the loyal shoppers.
   B. It might have been abandoned by its owner.
   C. It might be 12 months old.
   D. It might have got lost.
7. What are customers asked not to do?
   A. Feed the cats.
   B. Remove any store signs.
   C. Sit in the shop aisles.
   D. Bring in pets with them.

1. What has the woman been thinking of doing next semester?
   A. Sharing her room with friends.
   B. Cutting down her living expenses.
   C. Living off campus.
   D. Moving to the city center.
2. What does the man suggest the woman taken to consideration?
   A. The facilities available.
   B. Various costs involved.
   C. Changes in living conditions.
   D. The distance to her home.
3. What does the woman say she did during high school?
   A. Went through much trouble.
   B. Commuted to save money.
   C. Studied on the bus.
   D. Lived on campus.
4. What does the man say he'll do at the end of the conversation?
   A. Discuss the matter with the woman’s mother.
   B. Make a decision within a few days.
   C. Try his best to persuade his wife.
   D. Weigh the benefits against the disadvantages.
5. What is the woman doing?
   A. Interviewing the man.
   B. Looking for Lawrence.
   C. Choosing a present for her nephew.
   D. Helping the man with his shopping.
6. How does the man describe Bobo Man the action figure?
   A. Quite educational.
   B. Incredibly popular
   C. Driven by batteries.
   D. Obviously childish.
7. What kind of game does the woman think would be good for Lawrence?
   A. One he loves for helping exercise his mind.
   B. One he can play together with his sister
   C. One he finds interesting and challenging.
   D. One he can play either alone or in a group.
8. What do we learn from the conversation about the game battleships?
   A. It has been enjoyed by kids for decades.
   B. It always reminds people of times of war
   C. It has been played both indoors and outdoors.
   D. It distinguishes itself as one of the oldest games.

1. What do we learn from the passage about the paradox of choice?
   A. A display of a variety of products increases consumers’ interest.
   B. Too many choices decrease one’s desire to buy.
   C. Fewer choices lead to lower customer satisfaction.
   D. Customers given more choices are more likely to get confused.
2. What did the psychologist want to find out in their 2012 study about Jans?
   A. What kind of display results in more sales.
   B. What kind of display creates more interest.
   C. What kind of display attracts a greater crowd of customers.
   D. What kind of display leads to greater customer satisfaction.
3. What is the finding of an extensive study published in 2015?
   A. There are situations where customers buy nothing.
   B. There are tricks to increase customer satisfaction.
   C. There are ways to predict customer preferences:
   D. There are rules that motivate customers to buy
4. What do many Americans think of volunteering?
   A. Stressful.
   B. Burdensome.
   C. Worthwhile.
   D. Energy-boosting.
5. How could companies ensure both employees and employers benefit from volunteering?
   A. By linking it with employees’ salary.
   B. By taking it as the New Year resolution.
   C. By improving work schedules.
   D. By making it part of the job.
6. What did 75% of employees say about volunteering in a survey?
   A. It was very important to their well-being.
   B. It had taken little of their spare time.
   C. It was an outlet for their personal fulfillment.
   D. It helped improve their working environment.
7. What do we learn about the UK's retail sector food waste?
   A. It amounts to 2,000 tons daily.
   B. It mostly comes from supermarkets.
   C. It is estimated at 11% of the UK’s total food supply.
   D. It has a lot to do with independent luxury food suppliers.
8. What does Sophie Andres business do in London?
   A. It rents bicycles to deliver food.
   B. It sells sought-after coffee beans.
   C. It delivers luxury hand-made food.
   D. It recycles waste food from the city.
9. In what way does Sophie Andre's business differ from many food waste projects?
   A. It pays special attention to the size and shape of its products.
   B. It tries to escape the constraints of the current food system.
   C. It cooperates closely with local producers.
   D. It aims to provide high-quality products.
10. Why will suppliers always have a certain amount of surplus?
   A. To ensure a regular supply.
   B. To maintain a unique menu.
   C. To make up for the waste products.
   D. To meet customers’ urgent demand.

The human brain has the ability to constantly form new networks and connections between brain cells. This means the brain has an almost magical ability to change. This characteristic is __26__ apparent in a new study, focusing on people who underwent a hemispherectomy, a surgical procedure in which half of the brain is removed to treat illness.

The findings showed that, despite missing half of this critical __27__, participants could function well. This was because the __28__ half of their brain strengthened. In fact, researchers found that connections — and thus communication — between parts of different brain networks are actually stronger in people who had hemispherectomies than in people with intact brains. This __29__ that the brain is able to compensate for loss of certain brain structure.

There are many other cases in the medical __30__ that document the brain’s amazing ability to __31__. For example, a young boy had a significant portion of his brain removed for medical reasons, which included the part of the brain __32__ for sight. But a few years after his surgery, scientists found that he could __33__ see. They determined that this was because other parts of his brain took over the missing part’s __34__ tasks. Another study involved people who could smell despite missing the region in the brain that processes information about smells. Though they are not sure how these individuals __35__ the ability to smell, scientists believe it is possible that another part of the brain took on that task.

Section B 段落匹配

Directions: 阅读下列段落，为每个句子选出所对应的段落。每个段落可能被选一次、多次或不被选择。

A Traffic jams are a common problem of most big cities, either in developed or in developing countries, but one kind of traffic jams in particular can be especially frustrating. These are generally known as “phantom” traffic jams, in which dense traffic crawls to a halt for no apparent reason at all.

B “When caught in such a traffic jam, it is common for drivers to assume that there must be an accident, or construction or something,” said Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) computer science professor Berthold Horn. “And then you drive and drive and drive... and there isn’t anything there.”

C The exact cause of these phantom traffic jams has long remained a mystery. But now, new research has found the cause and researchers may have come up with a solution for this frustrating traffic pattern: maintaining equal spacing between cars on the road, rather than driving so closely behind another vehicle that a collision (碰撞) is likely if that vehicle brakes suddenly.

D Horn said phantom traffic jams are an emergent property of the flow of vehicles down a highway. A phantom jam begins when a car in dense traffic slows down even slightly, which causes the car behind that vehicle to slow even more — and the slowing action spreads backward through the lane of traffic like a wave, getting worse the farther it spreads, Eventually, the cars far behind are forced to stop completely or risk hitting the slower vehicles ahead — and so the traffic grinds to a halt over nothing, Horn said.

E Horn has been working on the problem of phantom traffic jams for years, and he has come up with a solution: By splitting the difference between the cars in front and the cars behind, the spacing of cars in a stream of traffic can act as a damper (抑制) on phantom traffic jams. That is, it can prevent the slow-down effect from being amplified (增强) by the cars that follow behind, he said. In essence, each driver would constantly make adjustments to keep their car roughly halfway between the car in front and the car behind.

F Horn calls this method of vehicle spacing bilateral (双边的) control and he said it could be achieved with relatively simple modifications to the adaptive cruise control that many new cars already have. Adaptive cruise control is a driver assistance technology that sets a maximum speed for vehicles and automatically slows the speed of the car when traffic is sensed in front of the vehicle. The technology is also known as autonomous cruise control. Such modifications, Horn said, could help fight phantom jams within a few years, maybe decades before an alternative solution, such as networked self-driving cars, becomes a reality on the roads.

G Traffic jams are caused by a number of factors, such as roads that are poorly designed or over-capacity, localized factors like city traffic-lighting patterns, and events like accidents and construction. But phantom traffic jams can make all those problems worse, Horn said. And the researchers in the new study have calculated that solving phantom jams could save at least some of the estimated $121 billion per year that traffic jams are estimated to cost the U.S. economy, Horn told Live Science.

H New research by Horn and MIT postdoctoral associate Liang Wang, published in the journal IEEE Transactions on Intelligent Transportation Systems, shows how bilateral control can fight the problem. The researchers made computer models of real-world traffic conditions, showing how a typical U.S. freeway could benefit from cars using bilateral control. That would be in place when human drivers fail to slow down, thus avoiding tailgating (紧跟) the car in front, Horn said. “Under reasonable conditions today, you might get 1,800 cars per lane per hour throughput (the volume of traffic passing through),” he added. “But with bilateral control you could almost double that.”

I The main alternative to increasing traffic throughput per lane has been to build more lanes and more highways, and putting in new roads is very expensive, he said. “If we can increase the throughput on major highways, even if it’s only by 50 percent that would be a big deal,” Horn said.

J With the help of engineering students at high schools in Maine, Horn and Wang have also built a robot simulation (模拟) that shows how bilateral control can suppress phantom traffic jams. Increasing the spacing of vehicles dampens the effect of slowdowns by cars in front of a given car, so that the slowing is not worsened until it becomes a phantom jam, the researchers said.

K A video from the project shows a train of autonomous robots running along a track without bilateral control: they eventually back up in phantom jams. But when the robots are switched over to bilateral control (by flashing the lights in the room), each autonomous robot tries to keep itself halfway between the robot in front and the one behind; the phantom jams disappear as a result, Horn said.

L Since starting his research on phantom traffic jams, Horn has learned that schools of fish and flocks of birds and bats use similar spacing strategies to avoid hitting each other while swimming or flying in densely packed groups. In particular, studies of millions of bats emerging at dusk from caves in Southeast Asia showed that each bat used a form of bilateral control to reduce the likelihood of collisions with other bats in the densely packed swarm (一大群), Hom said.

M Unlike bats, birds and fish, however, humans have difficulty judging distances behind them. To address that weakness, Horn is now working with the car company Toyota to enable a form of bilateral control via modifications to existing adaptive cruise control systems, which use forward-facing sensors to judge the distance to the vehicle ahead. The bilateral control approach would include adding rear-facing sensors to determine the distance to the vehicle following a car.

N But until those systems become standard, human drivers can help reduce phantom traffic jams simply by not following the car in front so closely. As Horn argues, “There’s absolutely no advantage of tailgating the car in front of you.”

待匹配句子

36. The age-long mystery has now been resolved as to how phantom traffic jams are caused.

37. It is possible to nearly double the hourly throughput per lane by adopting bilateral control.

38. According to Horn, drivers making constant adjustments for equal spacing between cars in a flow of traffic can help reduce phantom traffic jams.

39. Before systems for bilateral control are installed, drivers should not follow the car in front too closely so as to reduce phantom traffic jams.

40. Horn said with some simple modifications to the existing equipment in new vehicles, their spacing bilateral control could be accomplished.

41. Drivers caught up in phantom traffic jams are likely to think an accident has happened or some construction is going on.

42. Two sets of sensors would be used to help drivers determine the distances between cars.

43. Solving the problem of phantom jams could save America billions of dollars every year.

44. In a phantom traffic jam, the cars in the same lane slow down one after another, creating a wave-like effect.

45. Horn has found that certain creatures use strategies similar to bilateral control to avoid hitting each other while moving in dense crowds.

Section C 阅读理解

Passage One

Our society places a high value on physical beauty. Americans spend an average of over $722 each year on their appearance. One in ten Americans has tried to look like a star.

There’s nothing wrong with trying to look our best but excessive focus on physical appearance misses the soulful aspects of what it means to be beautiful. Trying to look like the magazine pictures can take us on a long ride away from what beauty is really about.

Many of us spend far too much time, energy, and money trying to polish an image of what we think will bring attention, love, and connection. In the process, we may fail to attend to ourselves in a way that would move us toward deeper intimacy, fulfillment, and meaning.

It may sound trite (老生常谈的), but beauty is only skin deep; it’s not what brings love toward us. Just read about the latest Hollywood starlets whose seeming love turns into resentment and bitter court battles.

Outer beauty can be as much of a curse as a blessing. We may develop a habit of being so focused on maintaining a perfect appearance that we never cultivate the inner qualities necessary to sustain and deepen intimacy and connection. As I describe in my book, The Authentic Heart, it is the courage to be authentic that connects us in a deeper way.

While our initial attraction may be based in part on physical chemistry, it is the meeting of our inner worlds that creates the lasting intimacy and spiritual connection for which we long. If we redirect our attention toward cultivating inner qualities, we might find a magnetic attraction that moves us from something superficial to something that connects us to our depths.

The path toward cultivating inner beauty is really simple. But what is simple is not always easy. Not everyone will see us and appreciate us as we take the courageous risk to allow ourselves to be seen as we really are. But if they don’t it is their loss, not ours. Eventually we’ll find those compatible souls who appreciate us as we are.

1. What do we learn about American society from the first paragraph?
   A. It sees lots of personal income wasted on beauty products.
   B. It considers one’s physical appearance very important.
   C. It places a high value on the physical fitness of stars.
   D. It expects every individual to look their very best.
2. What happens when people strive to look better?
   A. They have to get prepared for resentment and bitter court battles.
   B. They are better able to gain attention, love, and personal connection.
   C. They may neglect to cultivate the inner qualities that matter more.
   D. They feel much of their precious time, energy and resources is wasted.
3. What does the author say about outer beauty?
   A. It may be inherited or cultivated.
   B. It may lead to bad as well as good habits.
   C. It may create connection or isolation.
   D. It may do as much harm as good.
4. What brings about spiritual connection?
   A. Meeting of minds.
   B. Attraction at first sight.
   C. Physical chemistry.
   D. Frequent interaction.
5. What happens when we take the path toward cultivating inner beauty?
   A. We may find a route toward other people’s souls.
   B. We may be appreciated more by people around us.
   C. We will meet people who value us for who we are.
   D. We will be discouraged from revealing our true selves.

Passage Two

Plant-based meats are coming soon to a dinner table near you, but do they deserve a spot on your plate? If you tried a vegetable burger years ago and dismissed it as rubbery and flavorless, it’s a good time to give meatless meat another chance. Newer varieties imitate the look, flavor, and texture of meat. Analysts don’t expect the meat-free movement to slow anytime soon; a 2021 report predicts the market will skyrocket to $74 billion by 2030 — a 957 percent surge.

Plant-based meats are no longer just for vegetarians. Companies such as Impossible Foods and Beyond Meat — the current superstars of the alternative protein sector — are pursuing consumers who enjoy meat but want to reduce their meat consumption for animal rights, health, or environmental reasons. So far, it's a winning strategy: More than nine out of ten consumers who buy Beyond Burger and Impossible Foods products also eat meat.

Many vegetarians don’t actually care for food that resembles meat. When reporter Joan Solsman, a longtime vegetarian, tried a dish from Impossible Foods, she felt so sick that she couldn’t finish it. “Maybe the best sign that Impossible Foods has cracked the code to realistic fake meat is that I couldn’t stand to take another bite,” she wrote.

Meatless meats are generally a healthier choice than beef because they are cholesterol-free, plus they're a good source of vitamins, minerals, protein, and fiber.

If meatless meat can help you stick to a plant-based diet, that in itself can lead to better health. Not only has red meat been linked to cancer, but studies show that people who ditch meat have lower blood pressure, lower average blood sugar, and lower cholesterol levels.

However, just because it’s plant-based doesn’t mean it’s health food. Most imitation meats are highly processed and contain high amounts of sodium (钠) compared to traditional beef.

These new generations of alternate meat get all the attention, but don’t forget about whole grains and vegetables. Beans are an especially excellent protein substitute. They’re nutritious, inexpensive, and far more sustainable than any of the processed meatless substitutes on the market today.

1. What can we expect of plant-based meats?
   A. An increasing interest in their analyses.
   B. An enormous effort in their promotion.
   C. A huge boost in their consumption.
   D. A noticeable surge in their varieties.
2. What do we learn about consumers buying Beyond Burger and Impossible Foods products?
   A. They are mostly non-vegetarians.
   B. They are mostly animal-rights advocates.
   C. Most of them refrain from eating meat for health reasons.
   D. Most of them eat meatless meat to protect the environment
3. What can we conclude about Impossible Foods’ products from Joan Solsman’s remark?
   A. They more often appeal to meat-eaters.
   B. They very much resemble animal meat.
   C. Some have become its signature dishes.
   D. Most of them are sold as true fake meat
4. Why can the habit of eating a plant-based diet lead to better health?
   A. It frees people from any known link to cancer.
   B. It provides all the nutrients for staying healthy.
   C. It helps maintain normal blood pressure and blood sugar.
   D. It reduces various health risks posed by meat consumption.
5. What does the author recommend we eat at the end of the passage?
   A. Naturally produced foods.
   C. Red meats like traditional beef.
   B. Processed protein substitutes.
   D. New generations of alternate meat.

Both the conversation and the questions will be spoken only once. After you hear a question, you must choose the best answer from the four choices, 对话和问题都只播放一次。听完问题后，你必须从四个选项中选出最佳答案，

Mark the A, B, C, and D. Then mark the corresponding letter on Ansysheet 1 with a single line through the center. 标有A、B、C和D。然后在答题卡1上相应的字母中间划一条横线。

Conversation 1 对话 1

I've been thinking about moving off campus next semester. 我一直在考虑下学期搬到校外住。

Hmm, I don't know if that's a good idea. 嗯，我不知道这是否是个好主意。

As your mother and I would worry about you living all by yourself in an apartment so far from home. 因为你母亲和我都会担心你一个人住在离家那么远的公寓里。

And then there's the expense too. I'm not sure we can afford it. 而且还有开销问题。我不确定我们是否负担得起。

Well, I wouldn't be alone actually. 噢，实际上我不是一个人。

Three of my friends from the dormitory would share the place with me. 宿舍里的三个朋友会和我合租那个地方。

And with four of us, it wouldn't cost anymore than living in the dorm. 我们四个人一起，费用不会比住校舍贵。

Are you sure about that? 你确定吗？

Rents in big cities are high, and then there's the cost of electricity and gas. 大城市的租金很高，而且还有电费和煤气费。

Have you factored those in? 你把这些因素考虑进去了吗？

We've budgeted for those, and for internet and transportation. 我们已经为这些，以及网络和交通预留了预算。

And, if we move far enough from the city center, the rent is low enough for us to afford 而且，如果我们搬到离市中心足够远的地方，租金就足够低，让我们负担得起

all of it. 所有费用。

What's about the commutes to and from campus? 往返校园的通勤怎么办？

It sounds like you'll be wasting several hours every day on the road instead of studying. 听起来你每天会把好几个小时浪费在路上，而不是学习。

It's about an hour to campus, but there's no reason I can't study on the bus. 到学校大约需要一小时，但没理由我不能在公共汽车上学习。

After all, I did that during high school, and my commute was even longer than. 毕竟，我在高中时就是这么做的，那时候我的通勤时间甚至更长。

That's true, but I'm not sure why you want to leave campus and go through all that trouble when the cost is the same. 确实如此，但我不确定既然开销一样，你为什么要离开校园去折腾这些。

For a lot of reasons, we'd have a kitchen so we could cook ourselves, and we'd each have our own bedroom, where we could study, instead of going to the library, we'd just have more space and privacy. 有很多原因，我们会有一个厨房，所以我们可以自己做饭；我们每个人都会有自己的卧室，可以在那里学习，而不用去图书馆；我们会有更多的空间和隐私。

I'm not convinced that the benefits are greater than the disadvantages, but I'll discuss this with you another. 我不相信利大于弊，但我会再找时间和你讨论。

Question 8-11 Are based on the conversation you have just heard? 问题 8-11 是基于你刚才听到的对话。

Question 8 What has the woman been thinking of doing next semester? 问题 8 这位女士一直在考虑下学期做什么？

Question 9. What does the man suggest the woman taken to consideration? 问题 9. 男士建议女士考虑什么？

Question 10. What does the woman say she did during high school? 问题 10. 女士说她在高中期间做了什么？

Question 11. What does the man say he'll do at the end of the conversation? 问题 11. 男士在对话结束时说他会做什么？

Good morning. I'm looking for a present for my nephew, Lawrence. 早上好。我在给我的侄子劳伦斯挑选礼物。

Hi. Do you have anything in mind? 你好。你有想买的东西吗？

I'm not sure. No. Do you know what boys aged around 10 typically like? 我不确定。没有。你知道10岁左右的男孩通常喜欢什么吗？

For that age group, our biggest seller this year has been this action figure. It's called 对于那个年龄段，我们今年最畅销的是这个可动人偶。它叫

Bobo Man and it's incredibly popular. “波波超人”（Bobo Man），非常受欢迎。

Does it do anything? 它能做什么吗？

Not by itself. It has no batteries if that's what you mean. There's a Bobo Man cartoon, 它本身不会动。它没有电池，如果你是那个意思的话。有一个《波波超人》的动画片， popular amongst young children you see, and this toy is the lead character from the show. 在小孩中很受欢迎，而这个玩具就是片中的主角。

Oh, I understand now. I've never heard of it, but I do know little Lawrence loves cartoons. 噢，我现在明白了。我从没听说过它，但我确实知道小劳伦斯喜欢看动画片。

Do you have any other popular toys? Perhaps something educational? 你还有其他受欢迎的玩具吗？也许是一些有教育意义的？

Yes, of course. Right over here we have dozens of puzzles for children of all ages. 是的，当然。就在这边，我们有几十种适合各年龄段孩子的拼图。

They are fun, great for exercising the mind, and can be played either alone or in groups. 它们很有趣，非常适合锻炼大脑，而且既可以一个人玩，也可以组队玩。

I like this sort of idea. Lawrence has a sister who is slightly older, so maybe a game 我喜欢这种想法。劳伦斯有一个大一点的姐姐，所以也许一个游戏 that they can play together would be good. 让他们可以一起玩会很好。

What do you think of battleships then? It's a total classic. It has been around since 那么你觉得《海战棋》（battleships）怎么样？这是一个绝对的经典。它从

the 1930s. 20世纪30年代就有了。

Oh yeah, we had one of those when growing up. 噢是的，我们小时候就玩过这个。

Of course you did. Everyone did. And kids enjoy it just as much today as you and I did 你当然玩过。大家都玩过。现在的孩子和我们小时候一样喜欢它。

when we were young. Some games just never get old. 有些游戏永远不会过时。

I suppose you are right. I have fond memories playing battleship when it was raining outside and we had to stay indoors 我想你是对的。我有很美好的回忆，在外面下雨不得不待在室内的时候玩《海战棋》。

That's decided then how much? 那就定这个了，多少钱？

19 pounds and 90 pants please? 请付19英镑90便士。

There you are. Have a nice day. Thank you. You too 给您。祝你愉快。谢谢。你也是。

Questions 12 to 15 are based on the conversation you have just heard 问题 12 到 15 是基于你刚才听到的对话。

Question 12. What is the woman doing? 问题 12. 这位女士在做什么？

Question 13. 问题 13。

How does the man describe Bobo Man the action figure? 男士如何描述可动人偶“波波超人”？

Question 14 What kind of game does the woman think would be good for Lawrence? 问题 14 女士认为什么样的游戏适合劳伦斯？

Question 15. What do we learn from the conversation about the game battleships? 问题 15. 我们从对话中了解到关于《海战棋》游戏的什么信息？

听力篇章原文 / Passages（中英对照）

Section C, directions, in this section you will hear three passages. At the end of each passage, you will hear three or four questions. Both the passage and the questions will be spoken only once. Section C，说明。在本节中，你将听到三篇短文。每篇短文结束后，你将听到三到四个问题。短文和问题都仅朗读一遍。

After you hear a question, you must choose the best answer from the four choices marked 在听到问题后，你必须从标有 A、B、C 和 D 的四个选项中选出最佳答案。

A, B, C, and D. Then mark the corresponding letter on answer sheet 1 with a single line 然后在答题卡 1 上的相应字母上画一条横线。

through the center. 横穿字母中心。

Pattage 1. We assume that if we offer our customers more choices, then they'll be more likely 短文 1。我们假设，如果我们给顾客提供更多的选择，他们就更有可能 to buy our products. But here's the paradox of choice. If a person is presented with too many 购买我们的产品。但这就是选择的悖论。如果一个人面临太多的 choices, they are actually less likely to buy. In 2012, psychologists published a study about 选择，他们实际上购买的可能性反而会降低。2012年，心理学家发表了一项关于 jams. On a regular day at a local food market, people would find a display table with 24 果酱的研究。在当地食品市场的一个普通日子里，人们会看到一个摆放着 24 种 different kinds of jams. Then, on another day, at that same food market, people were given only 不同果酱的陈列台。然后，在同一市场的另一天，人们只得到了 six different types of jam choices. Guess which display table led to more sales? The study 六种不同类型的果酱选择。猜猜哪个陈列台带来了更多的销售额？这项研究 found that while the bigger display table created more interest, people were almost 10 times 发现，虽然较大的陈列台引起了更多关注，但人们购买 less likely to purchase a jar of jam than in the case of the smaller display. Customer satisfaction 一罐果酱的可能性几乎比面对较小陈列台时低了 10 倍。客户满意度 takes a hit as well. In the study, the bigger display of jams leads to lower customer satisfaction 也受到了打击。在研究中，果酱陈列越大，客户满意度反而比 than the smaller display. In an extensive study published in 2015, researchers analyzed 陈列较小时更低。在2015年发表的一项广泛研究中，研究人员分析了

a total of 99 choice studies and specifically looked at those cases in which reducing choices 总共 99 项关于选择的研究，并专门研究了那些减少选择 helped to boost sales. They found four rules that motivate consumers to buy. When people 有助于提高销售额的案例。他们发现了激励消费者购买的四条规则。当人们 want to make a quick and easy choice, when the product is complex, when it's difficult 想要做出快速简单的选择时，当产品很复杂时，当很难 to compare alternatives and when consumers don't have clear preferences. So as you can see, 比较替代方案时，以及当消费者没有明确的偏好时。所以如你所见，

when it comes to choices, less is more. 当涉及到选择时，少即是多。

Questions 16 to 18 are based on the passage you have just heard. 问题 16 到 18 基于你刚才听到的短文。

Question 16. What do we learn from the passage about the paradox of choice? 问题 16。关于选择的悖论，我们从短文中了解到了什么？

Question 17. What did the psychologist want to find out in their 2012 study about Jams? 问题 17。心理学家在 2012 年关于果酱的研究中想弄清楚什么？

Question 18 What is the finding of an extensive study published in 2015? 问题 18。2015 年发表的一项广泛研究的结论是什么？

Passage 2 The New Year has come and gone, and many may have already forgotten what they 短文 2。新年来了又走，许多人可能已经忘记了他们在 had resolved to do on January 1. 1 月 1 日下定决心要做的事情。

But if that resolution was to volunteer more, now is the best time to start. 但如果那个决定是做更多的志愿服务，那么现在就是开始的最佳时机。

Volunteering can drop after the holiday season, and by February, some organizations lack 节日过后，志愿服务人数可能会下降，到了 2 月份，一些组织会出现

the volunteers they had in surplus just a month ago. 一个月前还过剩的志愿者短缺情况。

According to one survey, only 26% of Americans volunteer, despite reports that many Americans 根据一项调查，尽管有报道称许多美国人 view volunteering as worthwhile. 认为志愿服务是值得的，但只有 26% 的美国人参加志愿服务。

Why such a disconnect? 为什么会出现这种脱节？

Most people cite time and conflicting work schedules as major barriers. 大多数人将时间不足和工作时间冲突列为主要障碍。

But employees and employers would actually benefit if companies made employee volunteering 但如果公司将员工志愿服务作为

Part of the job, researchers have found donating our time and talent to others can lower blood pressure, 工作的一部分，员工和雇主实际上都会受益。研究人员发现，向他人捐赠我们的时间和才华可以降低血压， boost happiness, and improve mental and physical health. 增加幸福感，并改善身心健康。

Studies have also linked employee volunteer programs with more productive employees. 研究还将员工志愿者计划与更高效率的员工联系起来。

With so much emphasis on employee wellness these days, company volunteer programs could be the perfect 如今人们如此强调员工福祉，公司志愿者计划可能是完美的

2025 resolution. But for volunteering to benefit employees and the workplace, the entire 2025 年新年计划。但要让志愿服务惠及员工和职场，整个 organization needs to be involved. By allowing employees to donate their time during work hours, 组织都需要参与进来。通过允许员工在工作时间内捐献时间，

the workplace becomes an outlet for personal fulfillment, without affecting personal time. 工作场所成为了个人实现价值的渠道，同时又不影响个人时间。

In one survey, 89% of employees perceived companies that sponsored volunteer activities 在一项调查中，89% 的员工认为赞助志愿者活动的

as creating a better working environment. 公司创造了更好的工作环境。

And 75% said volunteering was critical to their well-being. 75% 的人表示志愿服务对他们的幸福感至关重要。

Food delivery seems to be a big thing here, she says. 她说，食品配送在这里似乎是一件大事。

So, I started delivering products by bicycle. 所以，我开始用自行车配送产品。

Talking with local producers, I learned that a small part of the production is sometimes 通过与当地生产商交流，我了解到一小部分产品有时会因为 wasted due to problems with size or shape, but the quality of the products remains unchanged. 尺寸或形状问题而被浪费，但产品的质量保持不变。

Unlike many food waste projects that have sprung up in recent years, the idea is not simply 与近年来涌现的许多食品浪费项目不同，她的想法不仅仅是 to redistribute waste food but to provide a high-quality product. 重新分配浪费的食物，而是提供高质量的产品。

Undraised company, Alicia, offers breakfast and snacks specifically aimed at business meetings 安德烈的公司 Alicia 提供专门针对商务会议

and events. 和活动的早餐及小吃。

One source, Elisia, uses waste products to create simple, natural, straightforward meals and snacks. Elisia 使用废弃产品来制作简单、天然、直接的餐点和小吃。

Perhaps unlike other waste food, the supply is regular. 也许与其他废弃食品不同，这里的供应是定期的。

Suppliers will always have a certain amount of surplus, so the menus remain regular too. 供应商总会有一定数量的剩余，因此菜单也能保持稳定。

Andre believes this benefits both her business and her customers. 安德烈认为这对她的业务和她的客户都有利。
